She died on 2 Mar 1986 in Whiteley Village, Walton-on-Thames. Dorothy Gertrude (Dot), like all her brothers and sisters, was born and brought up in the village of Bole, she attended the village school and certainly went to church there. It is doubtful that she received any advanced education beyond village level, nevertheless she decide to try her way in the world and became a children's nanny, taking positions with several notable families, one of whom was the Colman family (of mustard fame).
 She continued in this career until retirement, when she went to Whiteley Village, near Walton-on-Thames, this is a purpose built village, originally conceived by a philanthropic industrialist for retired domestic staff, such as butlers, cooks and nannies,who found retirement financially difficult.(as 'live-in' servants, the pay was poor, so saving for retirement was virtually impossible), and consequently would have to rely on Social Security to survive.
 The village has all the usual community amenities such as a shop, post office church and a community centre, plus a hospital and all set in beautiful wooded surroundings. I will refer you to my life story "What I remember" for more information on Dorothy (Auntie Dot), who played an important part in my life. ## SIXTH GENERATION

87. Frank Henry WRIGHT<sup>3,4,1,5,2</sup> was baptised in May 1903 in St Martins church, Bole, Retford, Notts.. He was born on 16 May 1903 in Glentworth, Lincs.. He died on 23 Feb 1989 in Loughborough.

He was married to Gladys Mary HILL (daughter of Frederick HILL) on 2 Jun 1928 in Bakewell, Derbyshire.. The story as to why Gladys and Harry married in Bakewell rather than Bole, even though they both lived in the village is, that there was a certain amount of jealousy between the two families, the Wrights had lived in Bole for three generations (Harry was the fourth) whereas the Hills were "newcomers", Fred, Gladys's father being the first! - 95            ii. Patrick WRIGHT<sup>3,4,1,5,2</sup> was born in 1935 in Leicester.

88. Sydney Joseph WRIGHT<sup>3,4,1,5,2</sup> was baptised in Jun 1905 in St Martins church, Bole, Retford, Notts.. He was born on 14 Jun 1905 in Glebe Farm, BOLE, Retford, Notts.. He died on 31 Oct 1992 in John Coupland Hospital, Gainsborough, Lincs.. He was buried on 6 Nov 1992 in St Martins church, Bole, Retford, Notts.. MY FATHER. Sydney Joseph was not an enthusiastic scholar and preferred to spend his time on the farm, so it is not surprising that he decided to become a Blacksmith and Farrier (a family trade), at the age of 17, on the 14th of April 1923, he was apprenticed to William Taylor Mason in North Wheatley for 3 years, completing his apprenticeship on the 14th of June 1926. When he signed his indentures he was to be paid a wage of 7/6 (37.5p) a week and his meals provided. This was at the time when horses were the only means of power on the farm, and in many cases, a means of transport, therefore there was plenty of work shoeing horses and repairing farm implements.

It is an interesting fact that in his own village of Bole and elsewhere, he was known as Syd, but in Wheatley he was called Joe, the simple explanation was, his employer had a son called Syd, and to avoid confusion, Syd Wright became Joe Wright and remained so until he died.

After completing his apprenticeship in 1926 there is no record of what he did or where he went, but as a qualified tradesman, he could have moved around the area working for the many smiths who were needed in those days, we do know that he joined the Sherwood Rangers a volunteer branch of the Army (they would have been the equivalent of the present day T.A.), no doubt his skill as a farrier would have recommended him for membership.

In 1933 or early 1934 he met Phyllis Mary Allen, who lived in Treswell and was domestic servant in the village, and they were married in the village church on 19th August 1934, the witnesses at their wedding were Robert Owen Wright (Syd's brother) and Winifred Alice Allen (Phyllis's sister). They set up home in a house on the Rampton Road in Treswell where 'had rooms', a term meaning that they shared the house rather than having a separate part to themselves, later in 1934, on the 6th of November, their first son, Frank Alan was born in Mount Vernon Nursing Home, Retford. It being a rural area and Syd an agricultural worker, they must have qualified for a council house because they moved to South Wheatley which was near to Syd's job in North Wheatley where he worked for Edmond Rickells, an agricultural contractor.

GODDARD ASSOCIATION

20 March 2002

Dear Mr Wright,

Thank you for your family tree which must have taken a lot of hard work to compile. However, could I suggest that you get someone other than yourself, who must know every word by heart, to run an eye over it as there are several repetitions.

I regret to say that we have as yet no one else descending from the same tree, but we will keep yours on file until someone, hopefully, does contact us.

We had a look at the 1881 census - which you had probably done as well - and found Joseph and Elizabeth at Cromwell with their family.

We also have a suggestion concerning the oddly named "Howsin". He was perhaps named as a compliment to a friend or neighbour - or after his mother's family. There were Howsons in Muskham as you will see from this print-out. His mother's name is given as "Rawson" at her marriage, but that could be a mishearing by the parish clerk. Unfortunately the I.G.I. has filed "Howson" and "Howsam" under Houston. And "Rawson" under Roson. I know some, if not most, of the I.G.I. is compiled by non-English speaking typists, but this seems a little extreme!

I look forward to seeing your resume in the Newsletter.

Yours sincerely,

Julie Goddard
Research Co-ordinator
