Dear Mr Goddard,

Thank you for your letter and family tree.

Unfortunately I do not think that we are going to be able to help you much at the moment as we have had no one else contact us with ancestors from Stretton on Dunsmore - which my husband and I know well from having sped through it many times as we have travelled up the old Roman road, the Fosseway, to the Midlands. None of our members has been researching that area either, as far as we know.

The best that I can offer is a paragraph in the quarterly Newsletter so that any member who recognises your family knows that you are looking for relatives, and to keep your letter on file so that if we have any contacts I can get back to you.

Yours sincerely,

*New member Scott Goddard of Great Falls, Montana, writes that his 2 x great grandfather Thomas Goddard lived in Stretton on Dunsmore, Warwickshire. His wife was the former Miss Elizabeth Newberry. Their son Samuel Albert Goddard was born 21 Jan 1848, but emigrated and died in Salmon, Idaho in 1933. Are there any members with a similar pedigree, or any who would be willing to do some research in Stretton on Dunsmore?
Scott would like to visit this country and meet some relatives.*

Dear John,

Greetings, Thanks for contacting me so soon. Yes I have sent a check to Alice Godard Allen for $12.00. I have enjoyed researching my family. I hope to meet some cousins in or around Stretton on Dunsmore, Warwickshire. If I can make some connections I will probably come over and meet them and see Stretton on Dunsmore.

I am enclosing my family tree. The two oldest generations might not be accurate because I guessed based on dates. The rest I have proven time and time again. I have not found anyone researching my family line so it has been difficult to finish my research.

I will enjoy meeting you.
Best Wishes

Scott Goddard

Julie

Have kept a copy for my membership file.

Your school friend Anne Hockaday has also joined today (22029) and says she is in regular touch with you.

We're off to Vancouver & the Rockies on Friday. Back about Sept. 6.

John.

P.S. Why can't the Yanks use A4!

Ancestors of Frederick Alfred Goddard

Descendants of Samuel Goddard

Arnold in Upper Hutt has been researching his ancestors. Here is his work and their stories.

and lived in Birmingham. Their youngest son, Albert George, my grand father, came to New Zealand in the late 1890's where he married my grandmother, Hannah Bertha Baker. They had 3 sons, Owen, Gordon, and Frederick, my uncles and my mother's brothers" was born in Chilwell, Nottingham, England in 1850. He founded a whip manufacturing business, Edward Goddard Ltd., in Walsall, Warwickshire, England, in 1887. They moved to Farringdon Street in 1894 where they were for many years, and later moved to 57 Lower Forster Street. Over the years the company sold in excess of 12 million whips, of which 60 % were exported throughout the world. Notable dignitaries, including royalty, used Goddard whips. The last Goddard descendant in the company sold the business in 1981, and the last owner, Mr. Richard Grylls, sold the company in 2001. The new owners, Vale Bros. Ltd, are maintaining the Goddard brand name.. Whip manufacturing is now very competitive throughout the world, with China supplying over 50% of demand.

Edward Goddard

Thanks to Brian of Newbury, I have been able to start tracing my family. It appears that my grandfather, Albert George, son of Edward, was 4th in a family of 5. He was born in Aston, Birmingham. There has been some mystery about him, and we think he was a remittance man which may be the reason we are unable to trace him in New Zealand. His marriage was annulled in 1921, when he seems to have disappeared off the scene in New Zealand - where to, we can't trace at this stage but we are not giving up. The Goddard family around Birmingham have gone to ground and we cannot find anything on them after pursuing several leads. If anyone knows of the family there I would be very grateful if they could let me have any information on them.

Albert George came to New Zealand and married my grandmother, Hannah Bertha Baker, on the 14 June 1899. They had 7 children - 4 girls (one my mother Evelyn Annie Goddard), and 3 sons who became very successful businessmen in Wellington. They were:

Owen Goddard

Born 1 July 1900. Died 1978.

He learnt the glass trade from working at Reid & Fenwick and Auld & Gleeson.

While at Auld & Gleeson he worked on the Napier Post Office and, just about on his way home, it was destroyed in the Napier earthquake of 1931.

He started his own business, called Wellington Plate Glass Works, in 1936 at 34 Tory Street, and moved from there to 2 Ebor Street, then on to bigger and last premises at 128 - 132 Tory Street. They were the largest company in Wellington in the glass business, employing up to 20 staff, and specialised in wind screens, auto glass, lead lights, glazing, etc.

The company was involved in a number of major works around the Wellington area including The Defence Dept. building, Post Office Workshops, St. Pat's College at Silverstream, Ford Motors building at Seaview.

The company was sold to R. & E. Tingey when Owen retired to Greytown, where he bought the biggest house in the town, fulfilling an ambition he had when living there as a boy.

He was interested in deer hunting, world travel, and photography, among many other things.

Gordon Goddard

Born 11 November 1904. Died 1994.

Gordon was a farrier in the Wairarapa before the family moved to Wellington in the depression. He then had several jobs, including driving horses and carts for local firm, Munt Cottrell. A story is told of when making a delivery to the wharves, he backed the dray over the edge! He worked for the Union Steamship Co's. patent slip where he became the foreman blacksmith. He was a very strong man and his feats of strength were legendary. In 1954 he formed Wellington Welding & Forging Co. in partnership with the boilermaker foreman at the patent slip. Part of their work was testing ships' anchor chains for the Marine Surveyor. One marine job they had involved climbing a mast on the Pamir, a sailing ship that had been commandeered by New Zealand from Finland at the start of the war. They designed and built prefabricated steel barns which were sold all over New Zealand. In 1968 he sold his interest in the business to his partner and retired to Thames.

Frederick Goddard

Born 2 November 1906. Died 1994.

Fred was Wellington's leading locksmith, starting business in premises on the first floor of premises in Courtenay Place. From here he moved to a shop in Willis Street which he later leased before retiring. He served in the air force during the 1939-1945 war. When he was called up the three services appealed for him, with the Air Force being successful. Typical of the services, they put him in the War Graves Commission. This was the cause of ill health he suffered in later years. He moved to Sydney following his son Robert, a musician. Robert is one of the only 2 boys from the family to carry on the Goddard name.

My great grand father was Edward Goddard, married to Elizabeth.

Dear Diane,

I see from the November "Practical Family History" that someone else is interested in the Goddards of Monks Kirby.

She is Mrs K. Fraser,

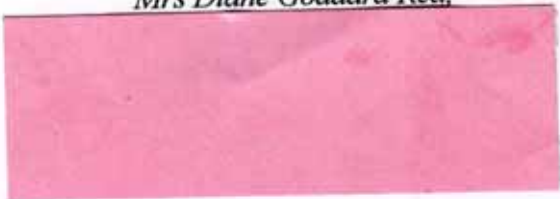

I recently asked our Midlands expert on the Goddards to have a look at your Monks Kirby Goddards and he is of the opinion that these Goddards probably migrated from Leicestershire over the border, but we are willing to be proved wrong.

Yours sincerely,

*Mrs Julie Goddard

Dear Mrs Fraser,

I see from the November "Practical Family History" that you are interested in the Goddards of Monks Kirby.

We recently had an enquiry from Mrs Diane Goddard Rea, 11 Wissage Lane, Lichfield, Staffs WS13 6DQ about this family. She is descended from John Goddard who was born about 1770 at Monks Kirby and married Hannah Wright (not Wight as in the IGI) and had six children between 1795 and 1809.

Our branch expert in that area is of the opinion that these Goddards probably migrated from Leicestershire over the border, but we are willing to be proved wrong.

I enclose a leaflet about of association.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Leslie,

We have a new member, Mrs Diane Goddard Rea 11 Wissage Lane, Lichfield, Staffs WS13 6DQ with a family tree in your area.

John Goddard was born about 1770 in Monks Kirby, Warwicks. He married Hannah WRIGHT (though the IGI says WIGHT ie WHITE) Oct 23 1793 at Monks Kirby. They had six children Joseph 1805, Ann 1797, John 1799, William 1795, Martha 1802, Samuel 1809.

Diane is descended from Jospeh who married Mary Burton and then Susanna He had ten children from the two wives. He moved to Staffs and I have found the family in the 1881 census. They were all bricklayers or similar and lived at Burton Extra or Burton on Trent.

I have given Diane some information and I am just asking you in case you have come across the family in your researches. No need to reply if you have not.

Yours sincerely,

*Julie Goddard
